

Faculty Review of Open eTextbooks

The California Open Educational Resources Council has designed and implemented a faculty review process of the free and open etextbooks showcased within the California Open Online Library for Education (www.cool4ed.org). Faculty from the California Community Colleges, the California State University, and the University of California were invited to review the selected free and open etextbooks using a rubric. Faculty received a stipend for their efforts and funding was provided by the State of California, the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

Total Points: 10 out of 30

Please provide comments on any aspect of the subject matter of this textbook:

- I found it so pedantic and vague as to determine it is not worth reviewing unless for a graduate class. For example, the authors refer to romantic landscape painters who “imbued their work with both expressive and disturbing qualities that caused controversy at the time”. Yet the book fails to either include a picture of any paintings or explain what the controversy was.
- The book is laden with uncommon vocabulary like “contrapunctal” and “panoticon”, and writes phrases like “the sonic terrorism of the British industrial group Throbbing Gristle” rather than saying in plain vernacular that their music included highly distorted background sounds or words and included pornographic pictures.

| Instructional Design (35 possible points) | N/A (0 pts) | Very Weak (1pt) | Limited (2 pts) | Adequate (3pts) | Strong (4 pts) | Superior (5 pts) |
|---|-------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|----------------|------------------|
| Does the textbook present its subject materials at appropriate reading levels for undergrad use? | | X | | | | |
| Does the textbook reflect a consideration of different learning styles? (e.g. visual, textual?) | | X | | | | |
| Does the textbook present explicit learning outcomes aligned with the course and curriculum? | | | | X | | |
| Is a coherent organization of the textbook evident to the reader/student? | | | | X | | |
| Does the textbook reflect best practices in the instruction of the designated course? | | X | | | | |
| Does the textbook contain sufficient effective ancillary materials? (e.g. test banks, individual and/or group activities or exercises, pedagogical apparatus, etc.) | | X | | | | |
| Is the textbook searchable? | | | X | | | |

Total Points: 12 out of 35

Please provide comments on any aspect of the instructional design of this textbook:

- I do not have to evaluate the entire book to state that I would never recommend it to anyone except one suffering from insomnia.
